

ALWAYS Awards - Thankfulness

Class	Name	Reason
1	Eva	Eva is always quick to say "thank you" to teachers and classmates, making everyone feel appreciated. Whether it's expressing gratitude for a lesson or acknowledging the help she receives in a lesson, Eva's positivity is infectious. She often compliments others, boosting their confidence and creating a friendly atmosphere. Additionally, she volunteers to help others, showing appreciation for what she has by giving back. Her genuine spirit of thankfulness makes her a role model for her peers, and this award is truly well-deserved! Well done Eva!
2	Daisy	Daisy has been awarded the Always Award for her brilliant display of thankfulness within our school. She is always willing to help others, whether it's assisting her classmates or supporting her teachers, demonstrating a true spirit of gratitude. Daisy gets on with her work diligently and is always helpful, never hesitating to lend a hand when needed. She consistently follows instructions, showing respect for those around her. As a role model in class, Daisy embodies the value of thankfulness, reminding us that gratitude can greatly impact our relationships and learning environment. Well done, Daisy!
3	Alfie	Alfie never fails to enter the classroom with a positive attitude. He is always thankful for each new day and approaches all his learning with a sense of wonder. He has excellent manners, always thanking staff for things they have done for him, even the little things. It has been wonderful to have such a positive and grateful young man in our class this half term. Well done Alfie!
4	Will	Will has been chosen for the Always Award for always showing our value of Thankfulness.. He consistently shows gratitude and appreciation in everything he does. Whether it's saying thank you to his friends and teachers, showing kindness to others or appreciating the little things, Will sets a wonderful example to everyone in our class. Well done, Will!
5	Penny	It is an absolute pleasure to have Penny in Class 5. She is the epitome of an Always Child as she always works hard in every lesson to do her best and her behaviour is impeccable. Whenever something is given out she will say 'Thank you' every single time, without hesitation. She is a real role model to others and is always polite, caring and thankful to others for everything they do. We are extremely thankful to have you in our class. Well done, Penny!
6	Isobel	Throughout this half term, Isobel has demonstrated thankfulness in everything she does - from really thoughtful discussions during reflection about the things in her life she is grateful for, to coming to thank me at the end of the day or a lesson when I have helped her. Isobel is also thankful for her classmates, thinking carefully about how others have helped her both in and out of the classroom. I am thankful to have Isobel in Class 6 - she is such an enthusiastic student. Well done Isobel!

7	Fred	Fred has demonstrated this half term's value of 'thankfulness' in so many ways. From always thanking me after entering his meal choice in the morning, to expressing gratitude when he has sought support with his learning, all the way through to writing and drawing his thanks as cards and pictures to me for helping to regulate his emotions with him. He is someone who is grateful, not only to the adults around him, but his friends and classmates too, realising the importance of thanking them when he has needed them the most. Fred is a true role model for someone who not only knows the true value of being thankful but also the importance of showing it consistently to those around him without feeling it to be a chore. You are extremely worthy of this Always Award Fred, and you should be very proud of yourself!
8	Maisy	It has been lovely getting to know Maisy over the past eight weeks. She has proven herself to be a kind, thoughtful girl who consistently demonstrates our value of 'thankfulness'. Maisy will actively seek assistance from her peers or from staff if she needs it and she does not fail in saying thank you to whoever has taken the time to help her. Maisy wants to do well in her learning and is truly grateful to anyone who can help her achieve the given learning objective. Maisy, during discussions about thankfulness in our Reflection sessions, gives well-thought out, considerate answers. I'm proud to be your teacher, Maisy. You deserve this 'Always' award, well done!
9	Alice	Alice is a joy to have in Class 9! She is hardworking and conscientious, always wanting to please, and seeks to do her best in every lesson. Alice takes the time to ask for adult support and listens to advice, she is so grateful for any support she is given and goes out of her way to say 'thank you' to staff. She asks how people (peers and adults) are feeling and regularly offers help to those around her. I would like to thank Alice for this excellent attitude and showing our value of thankfulness all this time.
10	Marnie	Since day one in Year 6, Marnie has shown thankfulness and genuine gratitude for her learning opportunities. She says thank you after all lessons and when resources are handed out to her. We are also so thankful to her for the effort she has shown in her work this half term - particularly in her attention to detail and her wonderful attitude to ensure her handwriting is joined. Thank YOU, Marnie. Please keep this up - you will have such a successful year. X
Mr Nixon's Choice	Joyita	Joyita is such a delight to have in our school. No matter if she is working hard in class, or working in intervention groups, she always says thank you (and she genuinely means it). I love seeing her on the gate in the morning and at the end of the day and as well as saying hello and goodbye, she always says thank you for the day, which demonstrates that she is practicing thankfulness.
