

ALWAYS Awards - Autumn 2

Please link your reasoning to this term's value of Trust.

Class	Name	Reason
1	Ralph	Ralph has been awarded the 'Always' award for his exceptional display of the Christian value of trust throughout our school. He consistently follows the school rules, demonstrating a strong sense of responsibility. All adults can rely on Ralph to do the right thing, whether it's in the classroom or during playtime. His friends also trust him, knowing he will always support them and act with integrity. Ralph is dependable when it comes to completing his work and is committed to staying focused when expected to do so. His unwavering trustworthiness truly sets a wonderful example for everyone.
2	Callum	Callum has received the ALWAYS Award this half term for always showing that he can be trusted. He can be counted on to make sensible choices and to respect school rules, showing maturity beyond his years. Staff know they can depend on him to act responsibly, and his peers feel confident turning to him because he is honest, loyal, and supportive.
3	Oscar	I think if I asked a child or adult in our Class to nominate someone for the Always Award of trust, they would nominate this person. From the minute he started in Class 3 he has consistently demonstrated green behaviour, even when others around him were not. He is smiley, hardworking, polite and kind to everyone. I know I could walk out of the classroom and he would still be trusted to work his hardest and do what is expected. Well done to Oscar, you are an absolute pleasure to have in Class 3.
4	Harry	Harry can always be trusted within all aspects of school life. Further to this, he is kind, polite and hard working. These are all such wonderful qualities to have and they make it a joy to teach him. When asked about who the Always Award should go to this time, many of Harry's peers voted for him too so his trusting qualities have also been noticed by many of his classmates. During reflection times, Harry's name has come up as a friend who can be trusted in all situations so this goes beyond the classroom. Thank you Harry- you are a star!
5	Isla	Since joining Class 5, Isla has been an absolute star. She is totally trustworthy and can be relied upon to do anything that is asked of her. She always tries hard in all lessons and is helpful and respectful to her peers. For this particular award we held a class vote and Isla's names came up again and again with people saying how much they appreciate her friendship and how they can trust her with anything, whether it's looking after something for them or keeping a secret, she can always be depended on. Isla is the embodiment of an Always child and she totally deserves to be awarded it. Well done, Isla!

6	Hetty	I have had Hetty in my class for 2 years now, and every single day, she demonstrates our school value of trust. I can always trust in Hetty to try her best, be kind and supportive of others, and do the right thing. She is extremely hardworking and always polite, not just in lessons, but to every single member of our school. Hetty is a trustworthy friend, often nominated for our class award for being helpful and understanding. She is a trustworthy student, who listens attentively, and asks for help when she does not understand. Hetty also demonstrates her trust in others by taking on advice and giving things a go, even when she does not feel confident. She could not be more deserving of this award. Thank you Hetty for being such a star!
7	Isabella	Bella is an absolute pleasure to have in Class 7 and is fully deserving of this Always Award. She can ALWAYS be trusted to set an excellent example to others by listening attentively in class, ALWAYS following our school rules and expectations impeccably and ALWAYS trying her best in all areas of school life. Bella is a kind and thoughtful friend to her peers, which is why she is considered a good friend by so many who know that they can trust her to support them or confide in. She is polite to everyone in school, can be trusted to deliver messages or resources and never fails to bring her wonderful smile with her every day! You are a valued role model Bella and very deserving of the Always Award for Trust.
8	Edith	For our value of Trust, Edith is the person who thoroughly deserves the Always Award. Having been in my class since Year 4, Edith has proven herself to be an extremely trustworthy person. I know I can always rely on Edith to do the right thing, help me with any given task and to tell me the truth even if there is a possibility of causing an issue with peers. Edith is such a mature, supportive member of the class and is a fantastic role model. She displays impeccable manners, gives 100% to everything she undertakes and has the most positive attitude to all aspects of school life. In our reflection sessions, Edith always contributes maturely to our discussions. I feel extremely lucky to have Edith in my class, and I know how much of a valued friend she is due to her trustworthy, mature, caring nature. It truly is a pleasure to teach you Edith, thank you!
9	Elvie	Elvie amazes me everyday with how highly she holds the value of Trust. She demonstrates her trustworthy-ness in every aspect of school life and sees it's importance within friendships too. In the way that she acts, it is clear that Elvie values telling the truth and being a trustworthy person in her everyday life. Her comments within reflection times show that she considers the need to be trustworthy more important than any feelings of obligation. Elvie has frequently come to me this year to speak about wanting to resolve conflict within peer groups when she's seen something which breaks that trust which is so important to her. I feel truly lucky to have Elvie in my class, knowing she has such high standards - thank you for being you.

10	Madyson	Madyson has been chosen as our Always Child for consistently demonstrating the value of trust in everything she does across the school. She is polite, well-mannered, and always tries her hardest in all areas of her learning. Madyson can be trusted to do the right thing at all times and to put her best effort into every piece of work she completes. Most importantly, she is a trusted and caring friend to those around her, and others often reach out to her for support when they need it most. You are a valued member of our class and a role model to other pupils. Keep it up Madyson!
Mr Nixon's Choice	Imogen	Imogen is someone that I see around school a lot, in trusted positions. She does jobs for people and can be trusted to do these unsupervised. Whenever she is in lessons, the playground, the field, worship, breakfast club or anywhere else, I can trust that she will always be doing the correct thing. I know that when she goes to secondary school, trust will emulate from her and she will encapsulate her teachers there too!
