

ALWAYS Awards - Spring 2

Class	Name	Reason
1	Amelia	Amelia is being given the Always Award for Justice because she is a brilliant example of fairness in our school every single day. Amelia always looks out for others. When there's a bit of a fallout on the playground, she doesn't just pick sides with her closest friends; she listens to both people and helps them "make it right" so they can get back to playing. She follows our school rules not just because she has to, but because she wants everyone to feel included and treated fairly. I am so proud of how Amelia treats every single person with respect, making sure nobody feels left out at breaktime or in the classroom.
2	Archie	Archie really cares about doing the right thing and will also try to help his friends make the right, fair choices too. Archie will accept if he makes a mistake, is honest about it and will work to amend it fairly. Archie will always listen to other peoples views and opinions and takes these on board when making decisions, to try and make it fair for everyone. In addition, Archie always makes sure that no one is left out and will offer anyone to join in, to prevent anyone from feeling left out.
3	Alfie	Alfie is a warm and welcoming member of class 3 who is always happy to help anyone if they have a problem. He takes special care to look out for younger children who might be struggling to complete a computer task and will notice when they need help and step in to support without being asked. He is always smiling and is a good friend to everyone, always making sure that everyone is included. He is fair and kind to everyone - a very mature, and thoughtful young man who recognises that everyone's feelings matter.
4	Amelia	Amelia is the definition of an Always child: she is kind, considerate, sensible, works hard, helps others and so much more. On top of all these wonderful qualities, Amelia has a very strong sense of Justice. Her contributions during reflection time have demonstrated this along with her general demeanor during the school day. If Amelia sees something that isn't right, she will not hesitate to tell an adult to resolve this. This is also done in a sensible and mature manner. It is a privilege to have Amelia in the class. Keep being a superstar!
5	Henry	Henry is a sensible boy with a mature and respectful attitude. He understands the value of Justice and has shown this on many instances that his classmates have noticed. Comments such as, 'Henry is super fair and always shares fairly with everyone' and 'When he is playing dodgeball and gets hit, he goes out without complaining' and 'once he wanted to pair up with someone else for a task but instead he chose me'. In addition to this, Henry always works hard, is kind and will help anyone. We are so pleased to have Henry in Class 5 and he is a role model to others.

6	Milo	Milo has a really strong sense of justice. He always tries to do the right thing and encourages his friends to do the same. When he does do the wrong thing however, he admits to his mistakes and accepts the consequences. He goes out of his way to apologise, and is very reflective about his mistakes. He also puts great effort into trying to make things right with his friends when they have fallen out, and helps others to act fairly when there are disagreements in the playground. Milo is always a team player in subjects such as P.E, following the rules even if that means he is out.
7	Annabelle	Annabelle is a brilliant role model and has demonstrated the true meaning behind this half term's value of Justice. She has not only been recognised for this Always Award by the adults within class 7, but by her peers also - making this a really special award to receive. Annabelle always finds a calmer and more fairly focussed approach towards disagreements that happen both in and out of her friendship groups, with some of her peers expressing their gratitude towards her when they have sought guidance from her on solving their problems. Annabelle always makes a conscious effort to include everyone within group work, ensuring no one is left out and everyone is given equal opportunities to contribute. She will often put others before herself, ensuring that everyone else has had a turn before she takes her own. You should be really proud of yourself for this amazing quality you possess.
8	Elizabeth	Elizabeth could be chosen for any of our Christian values; she truly is an "always" child. However, her strong sense of justice shines through in everything she does, both in and out of the classroom. She consistently demonstrates fairness, honesty, and integrity, making her a wonderful role model to her classmates. Elizabeth listens thoughtfully to others' points of view, especially during group work, ensuring that everyone is included and treated fairly. She shows genuine care for others and always strives to do the right thing. Her attitude towards learning is a joy to see—she approaches every task with positivity, determination, and a desire to do her very best. Elizabeth is a credit to Year 6 and truly embodies our Christian value of justice.
9	Charlie	Charlie is a real role model within the class for what justice is truly about. Charlie has an extremely mature outlook on life and often 'stays out of drama' which evolves on the playground. For Charlie, it does not matter who his friends are, rather what is right or wrong. Charlie will not take sides in disagreements preferring instead to ensure that nobody feels left out or alone. This means that Charlie is extremely popular amongst his peers. Charlie offers insightful comments during discussions about equality and justice, seeing that sometimes there are two sides to every story, however being fair is what is necessary. In PE, Charlie embodies what it means to be a team player, including everyone and offering anyone, irrelevant of skill, encouragement and support. Thank you for being such a wonderful member of Class 9!

10	Amelia	Although Amelia could be selected for any of the Christian Values, she demonstrates Justice through her approach to her friendships and inclusion of all. Amelia ensures that nobody is left out within her friendship group and also welcomes new individuals into the friendship group to ensure that they feel included. She always treats others fairly and in the way that she would like to be treated herself. Not only does she demonstrate the term's value of Justice, she embodies the school's Christian Vision and promotes a safe, happy and inclusive school in the way that she conducts herself day to day. Thank you for being an amazing part of our school community!
Mr Nixon's Choice	Isla A	Isla is someone with an innate sense of justice. She is someone who always does the right thing herself but more recently, there has been more evidence of her reminding peers about their responsibilities. It's not always easy to do the right thing, especially if it is about reminding people of their responsibilities but I am proud of the fact that she is starting to do that more and more.
